DEAR MAYOR AND CITY COUNCIL

From Left to Right, Back Row: Rod Dart, Keir Scoubes, Jens Nielson, Richard Davis

POLICY WRAP-UP

SFCN will raise Cable TV rates, effective February 1, 2011. Many of the contracts between SFCN and its channels require a cost increase charged to SFCN. In turn, SFCN must raise its rates to cover these additional costs. This rate increase only covers the additional costs charged to SFCN and does not add to the margin or profits SFCN may make. Below is a summary of the old and new prices:

You may now purchase HBO or Cinemax alone according to the pricing above.

The Planning Commission has been working on a project for the past year that will potentially change the way Spanish Fork City makes land use decisions. Every five or six years, city’s in Utah update a document called the “Land Use Element of the General Plan”.

The Land Use Element is a state-mandated document that represents the long-range vision for the development of the City. It is also an official collection of the City’s major policies concerning future physical development. The Element states the City’s objectives in terms of goals and broad policies to reach those goals.

The Element is more than a colored map indicating what is to be done with each parcel of land; it is an outline of the goals and policies that the citizens and government officials want for their community. When evaluating proposals, decision makers refer to the Element to measure whether the proposal achieves the goals prescribed therein. The document is forward looking in that it projects the vision for the future of the community. It is also the long-range nature of this document that creates the need for periodic...See GENERAL PLAN on other side updates, such as the update the Planning Commission has been working on.

The Planning Commission’s approach has been to make this update easier to understand and more relevant as a description of the City’s most valued land use goals. By simplifying the document, it is hoped that it will be referenced more frequently and studied more often by the general public. A draft version of the Updated Land Use Element will be available for review sometime in January.

For more information, contact the Community Development Department by phone at 801.804.4580 or by email at shendrickson@spanishfork.org.

NEXT CERT CLASS SCHEDULED

The next CERT class will begin Tuesday, January 18. Classes run from 7:00 to 9:30 pm on Tuesday nights and are held at the Fire Station (370 N Main). The fee for the course is $40, which covers the training, course material, a fire extinguisher session, and some emergency response supplies. To sign up for the class, call 801.804.4755.

STREETS & SNOWSTORMS

During the winter, please park as many vehicles and trailers off the street as possible. Cars, trailers, garbage cans and other objects make snowplowing very difficult and make the streets more narrow for plows and traffic.

Another tip is to pile or shovel your snow to the right side of the driveway so that when the plows come down your street, they push the snow away from your driveway and not back into it. Please help the snow plows make our streets and neighborhoods safer to drive this winter.
